

Welcome to JMF Investments

If you've paid any attention at all to the real estate market lately, you've probably heard at least three dirty rumors: 1. The real estate market bubble has or is about to burst, and you won't find the home you want at a good price anymore, 2. The real estate landscape is littered with the horror stories of good people taken in by unscrupulous agents, appraisers, and mortgage companies and now face foreclosure, and 3. Inexperienced investors and rehabbers have been entering the market at record pace, making deals more risky than in the past when real estate was seen as a no brainer for building wealth. JMF Investments has solutions to help you hurdle these issues, providing an escape for those in trouble, strategies to turn your hard assets into liquid cash, and a savvy partner for those who wish to avoid the pitfalls and make money.

JMF Investments is a full service real estate solutions provider. We turn those market factors that seem negative into opportunities for you. Whether you are an active real estate investor, an investor looking to diversify using real estate, a private lending partner, a homeowner looking to sell or upgrade, or a renter looking to buy, we have solutions for you that work in ANY market. We at JMF Investments are trained investors with over 30 years of experience on our team. Having experience and training in several areas of real estate, we find out what YOU want to accomplish, and then tailor a solution that will work for your market.
